SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

CDO Council Background

The Federal Chief Data Officers (CDO) Council was established by the Foundations for Evidence-Based Policymaking Act (Pub. L. 115-435), which also requires all Federal agencies to appoint a CDO. The Council's vision is to improve Government mission achievement and increase the benefits to the Nation through improvement in the management, use, protection, dissemination, and generation of data in government decision-making and operations. The CDO Council has more than 90 member CDOs from across the Federal Government, as well as representatives from the Office of Management and Budget, and other key councils and committees. The CDO Council has working groups that focus on critical topics as well as committees that help Federal agencies connect and collaborate. The CDO Council also works with other interagency executive councils on data related topics and activities. The CDO Council engages with the public and private users of Government data to improve data practices and access to data assets.

The CDO Council public meeting is for Federal employees as well as any members of the public, including industry, civil society, academia, and any users of Federal Government data. As a result of this meeting, the public will learn about the CDO Council efforts to expand the strategic use of data by Federal agencies, how the Federal Government is working to improve access to data assets, and how cross-agency councils are collaborating on data challenges. The public will also learn how data plays a critical role in this Administration's priorities.
